

People

Since the company was founded more than half a century ago, Medichem has been dedicated to caring for people's health, making high-quality medicines accessible to as many people as possible.

Today, global circumstances have led us to understand that there is no point in taking care of people's health if we do not also take care of the health of the planet in which we all live.

At Medichem we have always worked focused on people. Internally, by favoring the well-being and strength of the team through mutual respect, companionship and honest communication.

Outwardly, by adapting to the needs of our customers and offering them the most complete portfolio of innovative solutions and vertically integrated off-patent drugs, to help bring high-quality medicine to anyone who needs it. And just as we understand that caring for human beings is inseparable from caring for the environment in which we live, we also understand that the health of a company is intimately linked to the health of the social and economic ecosystem in which it operates.

In addition to meeting the needs of our customers with the passion and excellence we have been showing since our beginnings, we must pay special attention to the well-being of the people and communities where we operate, so that our team, customers and suppliers find it increasingly attractive to work with us.

Planet

Each and every one of us, from our own place, must ensure that every product and every process is respectful to the planet and the society in which we live in.

And we must take the utmost care to safeguard the best practices of the industry we operate in. The pharmaceutical industry works to protect people's health, which is both a source of great pride and an enormous responsibility

We must always favor honesty, transparency and ethical behavior, and establish alliances with those organizations that understand this in the same way as we do, forming alliances with organizations that share the same values, gradually contributing to the health of the entire system.

At Medichem, we have been working for people's health for more than half a century and we intend to continue to do so in the future, which necessarily implies expanding our scope of influence. While we continue to offer quality medicines to as many people as possible, we will double our efforts to do so by

Caring for the health of society and the planet

Medichem. Because we care.